History of the College

It was a college starting from scratch – no name, no firm location and no construction funding. But from the moment the idea was born, Grossmont College promised to become one of the county's leading higher education institutions. Following several years of study involving both lay and educational groups, the voters of the area approved the formation of the Grossmont Junior College District in an election held Nov. 8, 1960. The first official organizational meeting of the Grossmont Junior College Governing Board occurred July 1, 1961. With an opening enrollment of 1,538, the first college classes convened Sept. 11, 1961, on the Monte Vista High School campus in Spring Valley.

In an election held Sept. 18, 1962, voters approved a $7.5 million facilities bond. The Governing Board moved to purchase a 135-acre site located on a scenic mesa in the Fletcher Hills area adjacent to the cities of El Cajon and La Mesa. Ground was broken for the new campus in December 1963. Even before construction was completed, the administrative offices were moved to the new campus and classes opened Sept. 14, 1964. The Grossmont College campus was officially dedicated Dec. 12, 1964.

The first increment of the campus was planned to accommodate an enrollment of 2,500 daytime students, with the completed campus expected to serve 4,800 students. On Oct. 18, 1965, a second bond election for $3.5 million was passed by area voters, making it possible to complete the master plan. New facilities were completed Sept. 25, 1967.

In 1970, state legislation changed the term "junior college" in California codes to "community college." On Jan. 6, 1971, the San Diego County Board of Education approved a petition from the Grossmont Junior College District to change its designation to the Grossmont Community College District. On March 5, 1985, the Governing Board officially changed the name of the district to the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCD) to reflect the establishment of Cuyamaca College.

Proposition R, the district's $202 million facilities bond measure, was approved in 2002, allowing the construction of the Learning and Technology Resource Center, the Science Laboratory Building, the Digital Arts and Sculpture Building Complex, the Health and Sciences Complex, and a multi-story parking structure. The college's new student center, Griffin Center, and the Student Services and Administrative Building opened in spring 2012.

In 2013, East County voters approved Proposition V, which made it possible to renovate or replace overcrowded and outdated facilities; upgrade campus technology; build the new Performing and Visual Arts Center; improve safety, security, and access for people with disabilities; build a modern and larger Student Veterans Center; and create a new math and science building with new classrooms and student-serving spaces.

Today, Grossmont College is transforming lives through education by offering more than 150 degree and certificate programs, including university transfer and career education courses. Grossmont College also offers a full range of student activities and clubs, as well as 17 intercollegiate athletic teams.

The Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District is an economic engine that is the largest provider of higher education and job training in the East County.

The total number of degrees and certificates awarded in 2024-2025 is 4592.

The Grossmont College Seal

The seal of Grossmont College is used on official academic documents. It includes the Griffin symbol, which is the half-eagle, half-lion of Greek mythology, combining their qualities of courage, strength, and swiftness. The Griffin was charged with guarding the treasures of the ancient world. The three Greek words are Tharros, Dynamis, and Philosophia, which means courage, strength, and love of wisdom.

Degrees and Certificates Granted

Granting of the associate in arts degree or the associate in science degree to a student indicates successful completion of basic and general educational requirements plus evidence of proficiency in a specialized field. In addition, a certificate of achievement is available to those who have attained well-defined levels of skill and knowledge in designated areas. As a member of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, certain courses taken at Grossmont College are accepted on transfer by the University of California, all California State Universities, and by most public and private four-year colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Vision

Empowered through a culture of inclusivity, Grossmont College strives to maintain our student-centered philosophy while working to support the ever-changing needs of our students. Along with ensuring student success, Grossmont College continues to advance our antiracism and equity work as we venture further into the 21st century.

Hau Nguyen

Computer Science Information Systems

Hau Nguyen earned a B.S. and M.S. in Electrical and Computer Engineering from the University of Arizona and an M.B.A. from Arizona State University. He also completed doctoral coursework in higher education and computer engineering. During his time in industry, he nurtured a growing passion for teaching, working part-time as a college instructor.

Over his 25+ year career, Hau held senior engineering and management roles in satellite networks, cybersecurity, big data, and data centers. Despite his success, he longed for a more meaningful path–one where he could help others grow and learn. That search led him to his true calling: education. Leaving industry behind, he transitioned to teaching full-time, making a lasting impact as a professor, department chair, and academic leader. For more than two decades, he has taught Computer Science, Cybersecurity, and Management Information Systems at both community colleges and universities. His industry background brings real-world relevance to his teaching, bridging academic theory with practical application.

At Grossmont College, Hau has been the driving force behind the modernization and expansion of the CSIS Department. He has led the development of workforce-aligned courses, certificates, and degree programs in Cybersecurity and Artificial Intelligence. He also played a pivotal role in initiating the process for Grossmont to be a National Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense. His leadership has helped Grossmont's technology programs grow, making a lasting difference for students pursuing careers in the field.

In the classroom, Hau is known for his engaging, student-centered approach. He regularly invites students to present in front of their peers, helping them build critical soft skills such as public speaking, teamwork, and professionalism. His teaching blends technical rigor with personal mentorship, preparing students for transfer to four-year universities and careers in today's tech industry. Grossmont students have excelled in national cybersecurity competitions, winning top prizes and reinforcing the college's reputation in the field.

Hau founded the Computer Science and Cybersecurity Organization, giving students a platform to collaborate, explore emerging technologies, and develop leadership skills. He also plays a vital role in regional workforce initiatives, aligning academic offerings with in-demand industry skills. Hau often tells his students, "If you find a career that you would do for free, that is your passion." For him, teaching is that passion—and through his work, he continues to find joy and fulfillment by investing in the success of his students.

2024-2025 Part-Time Distinguished Faculty Honoree

Ahn Nuzen

Computer Science Information Systems

Ahn Nuzen brings over 25 years of expertise in artificial intelligence, deep learning, data collection, mining, and analysis, cultivated during his tenure at the U.S. Navy Research Facility in Pt. Loma.

He is proficient in Object-oriented programming languages such as Java, Python, and C++, which he applied to develop advanced expert systems in the Navy's weather prediction domain.

In academia, Professor Nuzen designs classroom environments to align with industry needs and job market demands. He incorporates the latest in-demand skills and tools, including Scrum and Agile software development methodologies, and stays current with emerging technologies such as Artificial Intelligence Large Language, and diffusion models.

To enhance student engagement and cognitive development, he employs a flipped-classroom approach. This method emphasizes Socratic learning, teamwork, and collaboration by pairing students with diverse programming skill levels for weekly in-class software programming exercises. These sessions promote collaboration, knowledge sharing, and peer-to-peer learning.

He also prepares students for real-world job scenarios by integrating mock interview questions and whiteboard exercises, simulating technical interviews to strengthen students' communication, problem-solving, and presentation skills.

In advanced courses like CSIS 294, he replaces traditional final exams with team-based final projects. Students are organized into groups of 3-5 and work collaboratively to solve technical challenges. This approach not only enhances their technical proficiency but also helps them develop teamwork and interpersonal skills by engaging with peers from diverse backgrounds. This project-based learning mirrors real-world practices, ensuring students are well-equipped to succeed in their professional careers.

Ahn Nuzen also operates a non-profit 501-C-3 to train teachers on how to teach STEM. During his spare time, he mentors middle school FTC robot teams, and high school Cyber teams to compete in CyberPatriot.

Student Speaker
Remy Berman

A Journey of Resilience and Purpose

Remy Berman is a 44-year-old single mother and native of San Diego, California, whose life story is a testament to resilience, transformation, and unwavering determination. Raised by a single mother who moved from Iowa to California to pursue a master's degree at the University of San Diego, Berman inherited a powerful legacy of perseverance and ambition.

As a young child labeled "trouble" and dismissed as someone unlikely to succeed, as well as underestimated by many, Berman defied those expectations. In 2007, the birth of her son became a defining moment. Determined to lead by example, she earned her GED while pregnant and soon completed an Associate of Applied Science degree in Veterinary Technology. Her hard work and tenacity earned her the Director's Award for Perseverance, affirming her sense of purpose. This led to her son graduating from high school today with the same strength and determination as his mother and grandmother.

After enduring several life challenges, Berman discovered Grossmont College, where a supportive faculty helped her thrive. She graduated with a 3.7 GPA while working and was accepted into San Diego State University to pursue her bachelor's in criminal justice. Her journey will continue at the University of San Diego School of Law.

With her mother and son as her unwavering sources of strength, Berman's story is not just one of survival–it is one of triumph, courage, and the relentless pursuit of justice.

Quote: "Strength isn't always loud. Sometimes it looks like waking up and choosing to keep going, no matter the odds. You are not what broke you–you are what survived it."

Associated Students of Grossmont College (ASGC)

MISSION STATEMENT: The ASGC strives to represent the interests and concerns of all Grossmont College students through improving the quality of campus life, promoting awareness of issues affecting students, and providing philanthropic support that strengthens partnerships within the campus community.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW: The ASGC was created July 1, 1961, to serve the students of Grossmont College. Early in the college's existence, the ASGC selected the college colors (green and gold) and mascot (griffin), and established student government. The ASGC was instrumental in the building and operating of the bookstore, financing scholarships to countless students, providing needed equipment and technologies campuswide, and launching the district's phone-in registration system. In recent years, the ASGC supported the Prop. R facilities bond issue and funded the major portion of the resurfacing of the running track.

The ASGC continues to be the source through which Grossmont College students expand their experiences far beyond what they obtain from classroom instruction alone.
