

AP4240 Draft

Students may petition to have their academic record reviewed for academic renewal of substandard academic performance. Academic Renewal will be considered under the following conditions:

- At least one year must have elapsed a from the time the course work to be removed is completed, and
- Students must have achieved at least a 2.5 Grade Point Average (GPA) in 12 units or 2.0 GPA in 18 units.

Option I: A maximum of any 30 units of substandard coursework (grades D or F only) may be alleviated. This option may be approved twice subject to a total of 30 units.

All attempts for substandard coursework (grades D or F) of a single course will be automatically included in the academic renewal, but will only count once toward the 30 unit limit

Option II: Two complete semesters in which the semester GPA is below 2.0 may be alleviated. Courses taken at Cuyamaca College and Grossmont College during the same semester shall be combined and counted as one semester.

Academic renewal does not provide an exception to the course repetition policy.

Under special circumstances, a student may petition to waive the one-year requirement. The student must file a general petition through the Admissions and Records Office with supporting documentation for review by the Petitions Committee.
