

Craig Carroll
English as a Second Language
Grossmont College
Sabbatical Report

Abstract

I became certified through TPRS University semester-length 201, 301, and 401 course offerings. I created training modules with lesson planning handouts and hundreds of engagement and acquisition techniques in a Canvas course offered to GC ESL faculty and embedded tutors. I studied Spanish through traditional-grammar and German and Russian through TPRS every week of my sabbatical. I continue acquiring Russian in a TPRS course. I became familiar with the professional research for and against. Our ESBS dean, embedded tutors, and new faculty have taken TPRS 101 and one faculty even attended the National TPRS Conference. Level 1 course offerings have grown dramatically in enrollment.